

JOE GRANATA

Vice President, Shared Services

Joe Granata is the Vice President of Shared Services and the General Manager of the company's headquarters in Manassas, Virginia. In this role, Granata is responsible for leading the company's Human Resources, Information Technology, Facilities, EH&S, Security, and Administration functions as well as ensuring the smooth operation of the company's Manassas Headquarters. He joined Aurora in 2005 serving previously as Director of Organizational Development and General Manager, and has been a key contributor to Aurora's growth and development during the last 10 years.

Prior to joining Aurora, Granata was the CEO and President of an information technology and organizational development consulting services firm that grew significantly during his tenure. Earlier in his career he was a project manager and senior systems analyst with Honeywell Federal Systems.

Granata has a B.S in Computer Science from Park University.